

Circulation

on the Run

FIT Edition

Circulation is inviting all Cardiology Fellows-in-Training (FIT) in the US and internationally to our special Circulation on the Run podcast, FIT edition.

#CircFITpodcast

We'll invite 2-3 fellows to our Circulation podcast to discuss recent articles published in Circulation with our Editors to gain their unique perspective on these studies.

The process is simple.

- 1) Find 1 article published in Circulation after January 1, 2017.
- 2) Write 2 sentences on how you think the article challenged current thinking and/or informed clinical practice.
- 3) Send in a question or aspect that you think merits further discussion to circ@circulationjournal.org.*
- 4) Get ready to discuss it online with our Circulation Editors on the “Circulation on the Run” podcast.

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION

November 30, 2017

*All entries to circ@circulationjournal.org should include

- (i) Subject line – “FIT Podcast entry”
- (ii) Name and link to the Circulation article
- (iii) Your comments and questions in the body of the email.
- (iv) Your full name, phone number, mailing address